

Accessibility Statement: www.belfastcentralmission.org

This accessibility statement applies to content published by BCM's Content Management System on the www.belfastcentralmission.org domain.

This website is run by Belfast Central Mission (BCM). Digital accessibility is a primary factor in our digital provision, as we strive to ensure that all can access our content.

For you, this means that via your browser you should be able to:

- Change the colours, contrast levels and fonts
- Zoom in by up to 400 per cent without the text spilling off screen
- Navigate a majority of the website using just a keyboard
- Navigate a majority of the website using speech recognition software
- Listen to a majority of the website using a screen reader (including default browser functions and other applications such as JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver)

We've also made the website text as simple as possible to understand. We have taken advice from extern experts in this field such as Abilitynet and Reciteme.

Our commitment to Access

We have taken every opportunity within our capacity to make this website accessible and easy to use for everyone, no matter what browser you choose to use, and whether or not you have any disabilities.

We have also made the website text as simple as possible to understand and navigate. However, we welcome any feedback on areas you think are unclear. Contact us by email:

info@belfastcentralmission.org

We know that certain areas within this website may contain resources that are not fully accessible:

- Certain Older PDF documents are not fully accessible for reader software. Also tables within PDF documents that do not have row or column headers.
- Some pages contain text which is not as simple as possible to understand
- Certain links on our pages may share the same link text, but go to different destinations
- Some pages contain links to external websites which will display in a new window- these external websites are managed by BCM, and should follow similar standards.
- Some pages contain videos that are audio accessible, but not fully audio described as a replacement for visual content.

FEEDBACK AND CONTACT INFORMATION

If you need information on this website in a different format like accessible PDF, large print, easy read, audio recording or braille:

Email: info@belfastcentralmission.org

We'll consider your request and get back to you in 10 working days.

Please be aware that, while we will endeavour to provide a full and unhindered experience for all, there may be circumstances where we are unable to offer a solution when responding to a query or complaint.

REPORTING ACCESSIBILITY PROBLEMS WITH THIS WEBSITE

We are always looking for ways to continually enhance the accessibility of this website. Many improvements happen by default when our Wordpress system is updated. If you find any problems that are not listed on this page or think we're not meeting the requirements of the accessibility regulations, please get in touch via email: info@belfastcentralmission.org

ACCESSIBILITY STATUS

Our website is working towards Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard. This is the standard that UK organisations recognise as satisfying their legal obligations as defined by the Equality Act of 2010

WHAT WE'RE DOING TO IMPROVE ACCESSIBILITY

This site was launched in January 2026. Any accessibility issues encountered after that point will be investigated and remedied over time, although we recognize that these may not become apparent until a wide range of users engage with the site. Feedback will provide us with the insights required to assess and improve aspects of our websites that do not conform to level AA of the WCAG 2.1.

PREPARATION OF THIS ACCESSIBILITY STATEMENT

This statement was prepared on 16th January 2026.
